

Some students take part in daily physiotherapy sessions following individual programmes set by the therapists. Staff are then trained how to use specialist equipment, like standing frames and run the sessions.

We also use the Sensory Motor Circuits programme, which enables our students to reach the level of alertness needed to concentrate during the day. Sensory Circuits refers to a short and snappy sensory-motor skills programme aimed at improving processing skills based on 3 areas; alerting, organising and calming.

